Bjerrely Fiskesø is Denmark's first green angling lake with organic quality trout from approved Danish organic fish farms. The keywords are: Ecology, Nature, Fish Well-Being, Environment – and an experience for the whole family. A unique nature experience with a good conscience for all those involved. The lake is one of the most beautifully situated in Denmark, with deciduous and conifer woods around sanded walking trails. There are many platforms from which one can fish. The lake is approx. 22,000 m² and 6-8 metres deep. There is a natural inflow of water from subterranean springs, so the lake is incredibly clean and the fish taste fantastic. At the lake you will find a barbecue area, fine toilet facilities and a service building in a form of a cosy log cabin. Vending machine with worms, powerbait, tackle, soft drinks, etc. You can spend the night in an apartment, your own tent or caravan. You can buy fresh organic trout for Kr. 60/ kg. Also try digging for your own earthworms in the organic worm compound! Fish – Fine organic rainbow trout from Danish organic fish farms. Fish put out several times a week. Bjerrely Angling Lake has received two environmental awards. For thinking in terms of sustainable wholes. For more information, go to www.bjerrely.dk
